

Rules of first edition of IYNC innovation contest (“Innovation for Nuclear”)

- The I4N contest is open to young professionals and students of nuclear technologies (up to and including 40 years old at the time of the IYNC contest, Bariloche 11 March 2018)
- The I4N awards the best innovative idea for nuclear application in the frame of nuclear for sustainable development
- Participants are chosen from the winners of partner contests; the final list of participants will be updated by January 2018.
- IYNC will provide a travel grant (up to 1000$) to attend IYNC2018 in Bariloche, Argentina, to up to 5 winners of the agreed partner contest:
 - Max 1 participant will be awarded the travel grant for each contest. In case of dispute, the participant will be decided by the IYNC members of the innovation committee.
 - In case the winner of the partner contest is a team (more than 1), only 1 representative will be awarded a travel grant, although all the team is invited to attend the event at their own expense.
 - In case of more than 5 winners for the different partner contests, 5 will be awarded the travel grant, as chosen by the IYNC members of the innovation committee. The other winners will be invited to attend the event but at their own expenses.
- The final winners will be chosen by a jury of experts selected by the IYNC innovation committee during a dedicated event in the IYNC2018:
 - At least 1 participant for each proposed idea must participate in this event in order to be evaluated and have the possibility of winning the IYNC innovation contest.
 - Participants must present their idea to the jury by a PPT presentation or similar (allocated time will be announced at least 2 months prior to event), this will include also a Q&A session.
 - Interactivity, video and prototypes are points of merits to be considered during the presentation
 - Evaluation points include innovation level, applicability of the project, presentation techniques, and contribution to sustainability. The final evaluation criteria will be provided two months before the event on the IYNC website.
- The idea of the final winner will be sponsored in the IYNC communication media.
